Bereavement Helpline

A bereavement helpline is available through the Scheme's insurer. A dedicated team of trained bereavement counsellors can offer advice and support on practical and emotional issues, at home or at work.

The helpline can be used by employees and also by any family members of the deceased. The helpline is confidential and available 24 hours a day.

TOMORROW BEGINS TODAY

The value of your investments can go down as well as up which means you may get less back than you put in. We do not provide financial advice.
